Your Rights

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights. This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities to help you.

Get a copy of your health and claims records

- We will make your health and claims records electronically available for you at no cost via a Patient Access Application Programming Interface ("API"), which you can access using a third-party application from your phone, tablet, or computer.

Ask us to correct health and claims records

- You can ask us to correct your health and claims records if you think they are incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this.
  - We may say "no" to your request, but we'll tell you why in writing within 60 days.

Request confidential communications

- You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address.
  - We will consider all reasonable requests, and must say "yes" if you tell us you would be in danger if we do not.

Ask us to limit what we use or share

- You can ask us not to use or share certain health information for treatment, payment, or our operations.
- We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care.

Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared information

- You can ask for a list (accounting) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why.
- We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months.

Get a copy of this privacy notice

- You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly.

Choose someone to act for you

- If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information.
- We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.

Share your information with third-party applications

- You can ask us to share your health information with third-party applications on your phone, tablet, or computer.
- Within 24 hours of receiving your request, we will allow a third-party application to access your health information via a Patient Access Application Programming Interface (“API”) that we securely maintain.
- You should be informed of privacy considerations before agreeing to share your health information with a third-party application. See our Guide to Sharing Information with Third-party Applications \(PDF\) to learn how to safely share your information.
- Lasso Healthcare will request that third-party applications attest to important privacy and security practices. When you request a third-party application to have access to your data, we will share the third-party applications’ attestation status with you to help you make informed decisions prior to sharing your health information.
- If you have chosen to share your health information with a third-party application via the Lasso Healthcare Patient Access API in the past, and no longer wish to allow the third-party application to continue to access your health information, you should contact the third-party application directly and/or call Lasso Healthcare at (800) 918-3859 (TTY: 711).
